

This Week in Organizing

Thursday, October 1, 2026

Happy Thursday! October is here, and Election Day is just 33 days away. With the most consequential midterm of our lifetimes rapidly approaching, what we do in these next few days and weeks matters.

That's why we're hosting a special "get-out-the-vote" call with Vice President Kamala Harris. During this meeting, we will discuss how Democrats can turn out in large enough numbers to win races up and down the ballot.

There are 33 days left. Let's make each one of them count. Read on to find out how you can get involved, and remember: When we fight, we win.

Onwards! ❤️

Join a Phone Bank!

Make Calls Now!

We're ramping up our calls to voters across the nation in must-win races like Michigan, Ohio, Arizona, Nevada, and more. We need you to have quality conversations with the voters who will decide the midterms! Every shift means more voters reached and more conversations that can make a difference.

During our sessions, we'll start with a step-by-step training, and an overview of who we're calling before jumping on the phones together. With so much at stake, don't wait until Election Day to join!

Are you ready to help elect Dems up and down the ballot but don't know where to start? Then join one of our Get Out The Vote: Volunteer Info Sessions, where we'll share ways to make the biggest difference ahead of November! Whether it's phone banking high-priority voters nationwide or being a poll watcher, there is something for every schedule and comfort level.

We'll also give insight into the most critical races we must win to take back the House and Senate. We're hosting these every Wednesday and Friday until Election Day, so register now and join us in our fight to take back the House and Senate this November!

Need Help with GOTV conversations? Read Our Playbook Addendum!

Want to learn more about how Democrats are preparing to Get Out the Vote this November? Check out the DNC's Playbook GOTV Addendum!

It is a concise resource for campaigns and state parties everywhere, and with so many voters to persuade and turn out, it is more important than ever to put it into practice. As we get closer to Election Day, we need to treat each interaction as part of a sustained effort to connect with voters and build relationships, and the playbook has all the tips you need to do just that.

The Work Doesn't Stop Here!

Here's what's to come and how you can take action.

1. Spread the Word!

Post content on your social media or share it with your friends and family! Every day, we share clips, topline, and toolkits on Slack in the #digital-volunteer-hub. We have a collection of posts on healthcare, holding Republicans accountable, reminding voters that prices are high under Trump, and celebrating our wins.

2. Join our Slack!

This is our virtual field office, where you can ask questions, find important information, and reach out to your fellow volunteers! There's always something going on here, and we would love to see you join in on the action! Register here.
